

Cheryl Donnison is the founder of Lumina Coaching Ltd.

Lumina serves a range of leaders in large public, private and voluntary sector organisations through to dynamic, entrepreneurial leaders of SME's. People and organizations achieving significant progress, frequently cite Cheryl as being the catalyst of success. She has worked as an independent, transformational coach for over 13 years; operating in Europe, Middle East and America.

Her passion for change is underpinned by the firm belief that talented people are the true differentiator in modern organisations. Cheryl focuses on encouraging individual initiative and leadership from a systemic perspective. Her collaborative approach with clients and their line-manager/ key stakeholders achieve clearly defined results. Her specialty is effectively enabling people excellence to the desired outcomes of their organisations.

As well as running her coaching practice, Cheryl is currently conducting a research study into the special challenges faced by founder managers and private equity in business today.
